The dog was in the store last night, but was so weak that he was unable to guard his master's property. The thleves attempted to open an iron safe which stood in the centre of the store, but were apparently frightened away before they completed the job.

The burgiars got into the store by prying open a shutter and opening a window from the back yard. It is supposed that they reached the yard by going through a tenement-house on Atlantic avenue and scaling fences.
Once inside the store they broke open a money drawer and secured $15 in bills. Then they gathered up a dozen books of gold leaf, 400 cigars and other property, which they wrapped up in some clothing belonging to a clerk.

When all 'the portable articles had been secured they turned their attention to the safe, They first bored a half-inch hole close to the lock, Finding that the safe could not be opened in that manner the burgiars began drilling into the keyhole. They bored through the outside plate and if they had not been interrupted would have forced the lock within a few minutes.

"I am satisfied that this job was the work of amateurs," said Mr. Klesel-bach to an "Evening World" transparence of the company's stock. The person to whom Blaustein says he paid this amount was Foxall, who, he says, represented himself as general manager of the concern.

My opinion is that he was either poisoned or was given 'the sponge.' A designing person could easily have introduced a small bit of sponge into a piece of meat and given it to the dog without exciting suspicion.

"The sponge, after entering the animal's stomach, would swell and stop the passage of food. The dog's body has been swelling, and he was so weak last night that he couldn't stand on his legs."

BOY, CHECK AND MONEY GONE

Broker Griesel's Messenger, Charles Middlebrook, In Missing. Charles Middlebrook, nineteen years of age, a messenger 'n the employ of J. H. Griesel, a stock broker, of 30 Broad street, is missing, together with an unsigned check for $3,700 and $96 in cash.

Neufoille & Co., stock brokers, delivered some bonds at Griesel's office yesterday afternoon. The cashier, having no signed checks to pay for the bonds, drew another check for the money, $3,700, and sent Middlebrook with it over to the Stock Exchange, in order that Mr. Griesel might sign it. Mr. Griesel was going out of town till Monday and would not return to the office yesterday, The cashier also gave Middlebrook $96 to give to Mr. Griesel for his expenses.

Middlebrook did not return to the office with the check, nor has he been heard of or seen since leaving the office for the Exchange. signed check for $3,700 and $96 in cash. The missing youth lives at 397 Bedford avenue, Williamsburg, As he did not return hime last night, and nothing was heard of his whereabouts to-day, a general alarm was sent out by the Brooklyn police this morning.

Middlebrook is 5 feet 5 inches in height, of stout build, dark complexion and hair and wore a dark gray suit.

Middlebrook is 5 feet a inches in height, of stout build, dark complexion and hair and wore a dark gray suit.

He has been in Mr. Griesel's employ for about six weeks and received a weekly salary of $4.

Middlebrook's mother told an "Evening World" reporter to-day that her son was simple-minded, and she feared he had been injured or perhaps killed.

"He would never run away," she declared, "and even if he did only $96 of the amount he had was in cash, so it would not do him much good.

"I have no idea where he is, for the last i saw of him was yesterday morning when he kissed me good-by and started for work."

NOT CLERKS ENOUGH.

Park Department Employees.

The employees of the Park Department have not been paid their salaries will probably not be paid before Monday.

There are now 2,792 laborers on the rolls of the Department, about 2,200 of whom are engaged under the $1,000,000 appropriation. The pay roll for last week is $31,600, but the total pay roll for the previous seven weeks did not exceed $45,000, so that with last week's pay roll the total expended for laborers will be less than $100,000 of the $1,000,000 appropriated.

The delay in paying off the men is due to the lack of sufficient clerks to meet the increased number of employees. Comptroller Fitch signed the warrants to-day, but they cannot reach the Paymaster's office before to-morrow.
